

Our Cookies Policy

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files which are stored on your computer and/or mobile phone and allow web applications to respond to you as an individual. Cookies help analyze web traffic or let you know when you visit a particular site. The web application can tailor its operations to your needs, pinpoint likes and dislikes by gathering and remembering information about your preferences.

How we use Cookies

We use traffic log cookies to identify which pages are being used. This helps us analyze data about web page traffic and improve our website in order to tailor it to customer and partner needs. We only use this information for statistical analysis purposes and then the data is removed from the system.

Overall, cookies help us provide you with a better website, by enabling us to monitor which pages or part of the website you find useful and which you do not. A cookie in no way gives us access to your computer, mobile phone or any information about yourself, other than the data you choose to share with us.

Consent to use of Cookies

Cookies may ask permission to be placed on your computer or mobile phone once you agree, the file will be added.

Blocking use of Cookies

Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer. This may prevent you from taking full advantage of the website.

Third party Websites

We and our subsidiaries are not liable for any cookies used by third party websites and thus cannot be held liable for any third party misconducts, misuses and/or misleading cookies.
